

NEW YORK SHOWS HOW IT LOVES THE GALLANT ASTOR BATTERY.

Its Final Parade 'Mid a Continuous Roar of Cheers Along the Route.

AVENUE A BLAZE OF COLOR.

Immense Throngs Lined Streets and Filled Windows to Welcome Soldiers Home.

"BOOJUM" DID HIS WHOLE DUTY.

After the Parade, a Feast and Dance. The Command Will Be Mustered Out of Service Thursday.

Passing in Review Before the Mayor.

Perhaps the greatest throng that viewed the parade of the Astor Battery was gathered at the north side of Union Square, where Mayor Van Wyck and many city officials watched the march past. "Boojum," the mascot, was very much in evidence.

Below this, on the avenue, the crowd grew more unmanageable, and at Nineteenth street there was almost a panic, so hard did the police have to struggle to keep the throng in check. Order was restored by the aid of additional policemen hastily summoned to the spot.

The March Past the Mayor.

At Union Square an immense throng was densely packed, and Chief Devery, in plain clothes, was personally in charge. The chief of the parade, Captain March, was dressed to keep the space in front of the reviewing stand open, and the chief himself pushed and struggled like the patrolmen. The reviewing stand was at the north end of the square and in the center was Mayor Van Wyck, who raised his hat and bowed as the soldiers, marching by, saluted him. The crowd cheered and shouted.

Beside the Mayor stood President Gutzwiller, Commissioner Keller, Commissioner Lathrop, District Attorney Gardner, Controller Cole, Commissioner Keating, Corporation Counsel Whalen, Commissioner Campbell, Superintendent Brady, Lieutenant Oakley, Commissioner McCarty, Commissioner Ryan, Registrar Froume, Commissioner Hess, with Aldermen and other city officials.

"Boojum" Did His Whole Duty.

"Boojum," the mascot of the battery, given to Sergeant Holmes, who was shot dead at Manila, by his sweetheart, before the departure from New York last June, particularly distinguished himself in front of the reviewing stand. With an American flag tied around his neck, he trotted along the line, evidently with thought that upon his conduct depended the appearance of the battery. The animal was enthusiastically cheered and trotted sedately beside the band. The battery passed the stand the band played the "Astor Battery March." The review was over so quickly, as the men were marched in quickstep that the crowd thought the men must be going to counter-march from Fourth avenue. When, however, the soldiers turned northward there was a frantic rush of the throng.

The police were pushed aside in spite of their efforts, and in a moment the battery was in front of the stand, filled with men and boys, cheering and shouting. Some fell headlong in the rush and were taken up by the police. The march from Union square to the battery was a continued ovation, and amid farewell cheers from a huge crowd that lined the route, the soldiers re-entered the building.

FEASTED AND DANCED AFTER THE MARCH WAS OVER.

At the armory a committee of veterans of the Seventy-first Regiment, consisting of Colonel E. W. C. Ward, John W. Jarboe, J. A. Brown, N. V. B. Stagg and W. B. Ferguson, was present during the afternoon to assist in the battery's welcome. The return from the parade there was a gay scene. Both batteries were lined up on the big floor, and then, after breakfasting, a rather early in the afternoon, the battery was entertained by the veterans. Relatives and friends were admitted, and after the lunch was over, the band played, and there was singing by the battery's double quartet, and then impromptu dancing.

Boojum did not understand the dancing and gnawed at the heels of the drummer of the band, evidently holding him responsible. At 5:30 o'clock Battery I marched away, and Boojum gnawed at the drummer's heels till he was out of the building. The sweetest of Holmes came yesterday to claim Boojum, but he did not recognize her and she went away weeping.

The Astor Battery will probably be mustered out of service on Thursday. Captain Elbridge R. Hills, Fifth Artillery, in charge of this, after the battery is mustered out, Captain March expects to be ordered to Porto Rico to join the battery that he left to take command of the Astor Battery. There is some talk of forming a friendly organization, to consist of the men who fought together in the command. "There will be no more parades, receptions or banquets," said Captain March. "There will be nothing but several days of official red tape, and then the fine Astor Battery will be a thing of the past."

There's a trouble ahead for private McFarlane. With the battery yesterday in the parade were Privates Young and Wright, who were accidentally left behind in Colorado. The two men spent a bad quarter of an hour after their arrival, under the belief, forced upon them by joke-loving comrades, that they were to be disciplined for the accident.

One member of the battery, McFarlane, is liable to be disciplined in earnest. He boasted indiscreetly while in a saloon on Sunday night how he had been able to make money out of the handling of commissary stores in Manila, and a newspaper published his boasts.

Private Hollister was taken ill at the armory yesterday noon, but soon recovered, and his horse falling upon him at Fifth avenue and Fortieth street, and was taken to the New York Hospital.

Mounted Policemen George Nell, of the Thirty-fourth precinct, one of the escorting squad, received a fracture of the left leg by his horse falling upon him at Fifth avenue and Fortieth street, and was taken to the New York Hospital.

Hawaii as a Modified Kind of Territory. The Bill for Its Government Reported to the House Provides for a Property Franchise.

The majority report on the Hawaiian bill was filed to-day by Chairman Knox, of the House Committee on Territories, with the bill as changed in committee. A territorial form of government is established, as near like that of the other Territories as the location of the islands, their physical condition and the character of the people will permit.

"The question of property qualification of any kind for a voter for member of the Senate," says the report, "is an important one, and is calculated to excite antagonism in the United States, but such a qualification has long prevailed in Hawaii, and, as far as can be ascertained, meets the approval of the people." That now proposed is most liberal, and the commissioners in their report look to its final extension, and regard the present time as not favorable to the experiment. It insures, as far as possible, the universal vote by the legislative assembly of Hawaii at an important period of its history.

It permits a large number of native Hawaiians to vote for members of the upper house, and the objections to this provision are largely met by the removal of all property qualifications for membership of the lower house or for electors of members of that body.

QUAY'S MOVES IS PRESIDENT M'KINLEY TURNS DOWN ALGER HARD.

Expects Ten to Vote for Him in the Event of a Break.

DEADLOCK TO BRIBERY.

Detectives Keep $250,000 from Legislators Anxious to 'Earn' It.

STORY OF A MIDNIGHT TRYST.

Anti-Quayites Had a Crowd on Hand to See Who Answered Senator's Summons.

Harrisburg, Jan. 23.—Quay is waiting for a fusion between the Democrats and the anti-Quayites, and expects to catch enough Democratic votes then to elect him.

As soon as a break is made from James and Democrats are asked to unite with the reform Republicans ten Democrats are expected to declare that, if they are to vote for a Republican they will vote for Quay. The fusion would release them from the caucus action binding them to James.

The anti-Quay forces know who these ten are, and they also know what inducements they are offered. It was to meet these men that Senator Quay and Senator Penrose, on the night of January 17, waited in a darkened room on the second floor of a house at the corner of Walnut and Second streets. This is a room in an unrefined part of Harrisburg. Carriages were sent out to bring in the Democrats who were expected to appear at the meeting.

The anti-Quay leaders learned about it through their detective system, which is so good that it has kept a quarter of a century of bribery apart from a score of men who are crazy to get at it, and passed the word around, and when the Democrats drove up in the tramping place Quay did not trust a stakeholder, and they will not accept the promise of anybody to pay for the votes after they are delivered. The anti-Quay people are equally confident of keeping their forces together. But in the event of a break these Democrats are expected to vote for Quay.

Francis Cole, of Adams County, Charles H. Dutton, of Adams, Harry H. Constein, of Schuylkill, George W. Watkins, of Philadelphia, George W. Skinner, of Fulton, Charles B. Spitz, of Berks, John H. B. Smith, of Lancaster, Michael J. Tighe, of Luzerne, Martin Brophy, of Allegheny, Senator Harry G. Siler, of Lehigh, and John W. Durham, a brother of insurance Commissioner Durham, recently showed a huge roll of bills in the Philadelphia saloons, and declared it was part of the Quay fund.

Setting on the Fight. To-night a newspaper man said to represent Insurance Commissioner Israel Durham, offered to bet $200,000 that Quay would win the election. The money was offered to the wager, and offered to raise it to $500. The Quay enthusiast said: "make it $50,000. The money was placed in the hands of the clerk at the Commonwealth, the headquarters of the anti-Quay people."

The anti-Quay people met to-night and confidence, and say that they have in reserve sufficient votes to meet and defeat the anti-Quay forces. The anti-Quay people met to-night and issued a "protest against the unwarranted and unusual attempted interference" of the Government with the rights and duties of the legislative department.

Then follows a history of the criminal charges against Quay, and the statement closes: "The Governor brushes aside the court and jury and all the criminal charges in a case that he has asked some of these or some of the Republican leaders of Quay, declares Quay innocent and the victim of political persecution."

His belief in the fifth taken, Quay was as usual just a dozen votes short. Scores Governor Stone. The anti-Quay people met to-night and confidence, and say that they have in reserve sufficient votes to meet and defeat the anti-Quay forces.

"We regard the open letter of Governor Stone, published this morning, as a challenge to the integrity of the executive branch of the government with the rights and duties of the legislative department."

Then follows a history of the criminal charges against Quay, and the statement closes: "The Governor brushes aside the court and jury and all the criminal charges in a case that he has asked some of these or some of the Republican leaders of Quay, declares Quay innocent and the victim of political persecution."

His belief in the fifth taken, Quay was as usual just a dozen votes short. Scores Governor Stone. The anti-Quay people met to-night and confidence, and say that they have in reserve sufficient votes to meet and defeat the anti-Quay forces.

"We regard the open letter of Governor Stone, published this morning, as a challenge to the integrity of the executive branch of the government with the rights and duties of the legislative department."

Then follows a history of the criminal charges against Quay, and the statement closes: "The Governor brushes aside the court and jury and all the criminal charges in a case that he has asked some of these or some of the Republican leaders of Quay, declares Quay innocent and the victim of political persecution."

His belief in the fifth taken, Quay was as usual just a dozen votes short. Scores Governor Stone. The anti-Quay people met to-night and confidence, and say that they have in reserve sufficient votes to meet and defeat the anti-Quay forces.

"We regard the open letter of Governor Stone, published this morning, as a challenge to the integrity of the executive branch of the government with the rights and duties of the legislative department."

Then follows a history of the criminal charges against Quay, and the statement closes: "The Governor brushes aside the court and jury and all the criminal charges in a case that he has asked some of these or some of the Republican leaders of Quay, declares Quay innocent and the victim of political persecution."

His belief in the fifth taken, Quay was as usual just a dozen votes short. Scores Governor Stone. The anti-Quay people met to-night and confidence, and say that they have in reserve sufficient votes to meet and defeat the anti-Quay forces.

"We regard the open letter of Governor Stone, published this morning, as a challenge to the integrity of the executive branch of the government with the rights and duties of the legislative department."

Control of Franchises Taken Entirely Out of the Secretary's Hands.

COLONIAL BOARD NAMED.

They Will Have Jurisdiction in All Matters of Insular Government.

THE CASE OF THE BANCO ESPANOL.

General Brooke's Report as to the Anger of Cubans at Its Reinstatement is in the President's Hands.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Secretary Alger to-day received the protest of General Brooke against the proposition to make the Banco Espanol the tax collecting agency of the United States in Cuba. The order making the bank such agency was made public in Havana January 7. General Alger acting under his own order of a previous date, giving himself and General Brooke authority to make such arrangements and in general to grant all franchises for the island.

General Brooke published the order in favor of the bank, and, as shown in the Journal, the news excited indignation from one end of the island to the other. The President called a halt and requested General Brooke to report the facts.

General Brooke's report gives full information as to the opposition of the Cubans to the scheme, the regulation by the bank of its obligations and the impracticability of the scheme from a political standpoint. The report of General Brooke will be considered at the Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

General Alger's plan of collecting the taxes was agreed upon with an agent of the bank who was in Washington early in December. The fact that the President had vetoed it was published several days ago in the Journal.

Secretary McKimley's object is to take the franchise out of the hands of the War Department, more especially the Insular Department, and place it in the hands of the Treasury Department.

The Board will have jurisdiction over all the acquired possessions of the United States and of Cuba. It is understood that the Board may become a part of the War Department.

One important question on which the Board will report will be the effect the future independent government of the island of Cuba may have on franchises issued under the United States military occupation of that island.

The Board is expected to assemble here during the present week.

CLARK LEADS IN MONTANA FIGHT. Old Politicians, However, Say the Deadlock Will Outlast the Session.

Holena, Jan. 23.—W. A. Clark for United States Senator to-day received thirty-six votes, and for the first time leads his strongest opponent, W. G. Conrad. Since the voting began, two weeks ago, Clark has gone from seven votes to his present strength, and his managers say that to-morrow he will have thirty-eight. These out of the four silver Republicans have gone over to him, and of the eight Democrats who are yet voting for dark horses he expects to get six. But even with this it is predicted that he will not get the necessary forty-eight votes to elect him.

The anti-Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty. The Clark vote numbers thirty, and the Clark vote numbers thirty.

HISTORY MADE BY SECRETARY ALGER AND PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Secretary Alger decreed that all franchises in Cuba and Porto Rico must be granted from the War Department. Secretary Alger revives the Banco Espanol, and authorizes it to collect Spain's back taxes in Cuba.

President McKimley appoints a Colonial Commission to have full control of all matters of insular administration, including the INSULAR BOARD OF FRANCHISES.

President McKimley revokes the authority of the Banco Espanol to act as a tax collector for Spain.

Moral: It's a cold winter for self-appointed autocrats.

THE JOURNAL'S WARNING TO PRESIDENT M'KINLEY. He (Secretary Alger) has issued an order requiring all applications for concession of public or corporate rights in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines, franchises for the construction of public or quasi public works, such as railroads, street car lines, telegraph, telephone and electric light lines, water works and gas works to be submitted to him.

He is to have absolute control for ten million people of such matters as have enriched a hundred American boards of Aldermen from the time of Jacob Sharp to that of Yerkes.

When Mr. Alger jobs the franchises he holds in trust for the people of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, he will do so with no thought that he is doing anything but making a sensible use of his opportunities.

But will Congress permit our dependencies to be looted because Providence, for its own mysterious purposes, chose to create Alger without a brain or conscience? Editorial in the Journal on December 25, 1898.

COLONIAL BOARD COMPLETED. Robert P. Kennedy, of Ohio, Curtis Guild, of Massachusetts, George W. Watkins, of Michigan.

Washington, Jan. 23.—General Ludlow is said to be indignant over that portion of General Miles' testimony in which General Ludlow is charged with having disobeyed instructions at Santiago. General Ludlow will probably make a report to the War Investigating Committee.

General Miles' testimony was sent to Santiago by General Miles and specially told to provide for the disembarkation of the troops, horses and stores by building portable bridges. Instead of doing so, he went to the front. Much of the privation and suffering at Santiago was due to the fact that the medical and food stores were not landed.

It is said the record will show that General Ludlow's failure to do what he was told was due to the interference of General Shafter with General Miles' orders.

On General Ludlow's arrival at Santiago he was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work. General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

General Ludlow was finally stopped by collision with the front of a brigade. He thus necessarily abandoned all the engineering work.

Boojum, the Mascot.

This is the dog that accompanied the Astor Battery to Manila and back. It was owned by Sergeant Holmes by his sweetheart, last June. Holmes was killed in the battle of Manila. Yesterday, when the battery returned to New York, the dog was with them, and it was found that it had been with them all the time.

Mr. Harbinger, Democrat, cordially indorses the resolution and said: "When it comes to a question of protecting American homes and keeping them clean and pure, James and Gentile will be found standing side by side with the resolution."

That the Senate will also adopt the resolution is certain.

POLYGAMY FAR FROM DEAD. Missionary Nutting, Just Back from Utah, Furnishes Some Startling Information on the Mormon Situation.

"Forty-nine polygamous little ones have been reported to me by personal friends, all born since Statehood, and several of them born to members of the first generation of the twelve apostles since Statehood."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

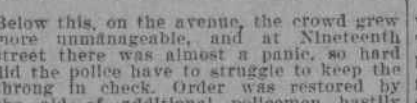

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

Boojum, the Mascot.

This is the dog that accompanied the Astor Battery to Manila and back. It was owned by Sergeant Holmes by his sweetheart, last June. Holmes was killed in the battle of Manila. Yesterday, when the battery returned to New York, the dog was with them, and it was found that it had been with them all the time.

Mr. Harbinger, Democrat, cordially indorses the resolution and said: "When it comes to a question of protecting American homes and keeping them clean and pure, James and Gentile will be found standing side by side with the resolution."

That the Senate will also adopt the resolution is certain.

POLYGAMY FAR FROM DEAD. Missionary Nutting, Just Back from Utah, Furnishes Some Startling Information on the Mormon Situation.

"Forty-nine polygamous little ones have been reported to me by personal friends, all born since Statehood, and several of them born to members of the first generation of the twelve apostles since Statehood."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

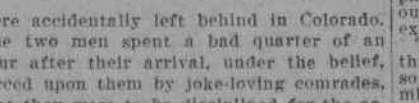

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

Boojum, the Mascot.

This is the dog that accompanied the Astor Battery to Manila and back. It was owned by Sergeant Holmes by his sweetheart, last June. Holmes was killed in the battle of Manila. Yesterday, when the battery returned to New York, the dog was with them, and it was found that it had been with them all the time.

Mr. Harbinger, Democrat, cordially indorses the resolution and said: "When it comes to a question of protecting American homes and keeping them clean and pure, James and Gentile will be found standing side by side with the resolution."

That the Senate will also adopt the resolution is certain.

POLYGAMY FAR FROM DEAD. Missionary Nutting, Just Back from Utah, Furnishes Some Startling Information on the Mormon Situation.

"Forty-nine polygamous little ones have been reported to me by personal friends, all born since Statehood, and several of them born to members of the first generation of the twelve apostles since Statehood."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

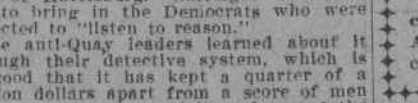

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

Boojum, the Mascot.

This is the dog that accompanied the Astor Battery to Manila and back. It was owned by Sergeant Holmes by his sweetheart, last June. Holmes was killed in the battle of Manila. Yesterday, when the battery returned to New York, the dog was with them, and it was found that it had been with them all the time.

Mr. Harbinger, Democrat, cordially indorses the resolution and said: "When it comes to a question of protecting American homes and keeping them clean and pure, James and Gentile will be found standing side by side with the resolution."

That the Senate will also adopt the resolution is certain.

POLYGAMY FAR FROM DEAD. Missionary Nutting, Just Back from Utah, Furnishes Some Startling Information on the Mormon Situation.

"Forty-nine polygamous little ones have been reported to me by personal friends, all born since Statehood, and several of them born to members of the first generation of the twelve apostles since Statehood."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."

Such is the startling declaration of the Rev. J. D. Nutting, who has just arrived in New York from Utah, where for many years he has been a missionary for the Congregational Church.

"Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon Church," he continued, "is said to have a new polygamous wife with a young child, while Roberts is declared to have three polygamous babies under six months of age."